'Flying Nun' — Sister Camille posed in front of the plane mentioned in her column (below).

From Our President

As we begin the 1975-76 school year on campus, I should like to share with you an exciting experience I had in July when our aerial photographer, Bob McCoy, invited me to accompany him on his mission of filming Cardinal Stritch College from a four-passenger airplane.

Accordingly, our Publicity Office sent out news releases about the College's "flying nun" seeking a bird's-eye view of our Fox Point-Glendale site.

On a slightly overcast day, I traveled in space over "Stritchland" . . . and took many "unofficial" pictures, including the enlarged snapshot on the front page of this issue of Stritch '75.

I would have to admit that I beamed with pride over what I saw below: the total campus; the new St. Francis Children's Activity and Achievement Center; the freshly paved parking areas; the lush landscape enhanced by the nearness of Lake Michigan; and the large sector of yet-to-be developed open land. It seemed as if I were viewing the "greening of Stritch" from above.

Even within those few fleeting moments, I realized how much has been accomplished in the growth and development of the College's programs and services and, yet, how much room there is for expansion by way of capital improvement projects, such as an auditorium-gymnasium, art facilities, and additional classroom and office space . . . still to be planned on the drawing boards.

Each time I view the pictures since touching down at the airport, I am grateful for all that has been achieved and pray that our dreams for the future will come true.

Special Art Exhibit Planned for October To Give Recognition to Sister Thomasita

"The World Is My Canvas" is the theme of a special art exhibit that will feature paintings by Sr. M. Thomasita Fessler in Studio San Damiano from October 5 through 26. The public showing will be open free of charge from 9:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. daily.

In addition, a premiere reception honoring Sister Thomasita will be held on Sat., Oct. 4, for several hundred invited guests — including government officials, civic leaders, other artists and educators, as well as longtime friends and admirers.

Paintings Reflect Travels

While the noted OSF Sister-artist-educator has created countless artifacts in almost all media, her current exhibition will concentrate on nearly 90 oil paintings produced during the past year. "Cosmopolitan" is the most appropriate description covering Sister

Thomasita's oils . . . for they draw heavily upon experiences and inspiration she has had and felt as a leader of art-tours to many parts of the world.

Since Sister Thomasita's first trip abroad in 1950, she has visited many nations of the East and the West: Austria, France, Italy, Switzerland, England, Germany, Holland, Ireland, Belgium, Norway, Sweden, Denmark, Guatemala, Costa Rica, South America, Japan, Thailand, Cambodia, Hong Kong, India, Turkey, Greece, Yugoslavia, Portugal, and Spain.

Along the way, she has also gathered a collection of over 60,000 film slides for reference, art classes, and travelogue lectures.

Exhibit Highlights Career

In the words of Sr. M. Camille Kliebhan, president: "Cardinal Stritch College is proud to sponsor this special exhibition in recognition of Sister Thomasita's distinguished record of achievement in the fine arts and her many years of service as head of our Art Department since 1947. Few individuals have contributed as much or worked as hard as she to enrich the cultural atmosphere of metropolitan Milwaukee and the State of Wisconsin."

To commemorate the event, Sister Camille and Sr. Leandra Eckelkamp, director of the Sisters of St. Francis of Assisi, have jointly commissioned the printing of a special booklet dedicated to Sister Thomasita and featuring representative reproductions from her 1975 show.

Fall Semester Begins With 'Welcome Week'

"Welcome Week" for new freshmen and transfer students extended from Mon., Sept. 1, through Fri., Sept. 5. On Labor Day, Clare Residence Hall was opened, campus tours were conducted, and the President's Reception was held in Serra Hall at 3:00 p.m.

Tuesday's schedule featured convocations conducted by the dean of students and the academic dean, chorus interviews, and an all-College picnic on the west campus. Wednesday was devoted to completing registration arrangements and purchasing books — with an excursion boat trip on Lake Michigan available in the afternoon.

Classes began on Thurs., Sept. 4, and a "Get Acquainted" dance was held in Serra Hall the next evening.

Hospitality Dinner Held For Student Advisors

High school guidance counselors from Milwaukee and Southeastern Wisconsin were guests of Cardinal Stritch College for a "Hospitality Night" program on Tues., Sept. 16.

Campus tours were followed by a social hour in Cardinal Lounge and a dinner in Serra Hall.

Sr. M. Camille Kliebhan, president, addressed the group, and James J. Spitz, director of admissions, was in charge of arrangements.

Stritch Cooperates with Many Other Institutions

For independent institutions of higher education, one of the ways of ensuring maximum use of limited resources is to join with other colleges and universities, libraries, and community agencies in the joint sharing of available personnel, programs, and physical plants. Another advantage of inter-institutional cooperation and consortium arrangements is the financial dimension of possible cost-cutting and collective fund raising.

Cardinal Stritch College presently participates in ten such partnership plans, according to a detailed report prepared recently by Sr. M. Aquin Miller, director of institutional research.

College Cooperates with Many

Along with other accredited four-year institutions in the state, Stritch belongs to (a) the Wisconsin Association of Independent Colleges and Universities, which collaborates on public service and legislative affairs, and (b) the Wisconsin Foundation of Independent Colleges, which raises additional gift contributions for members in substantial amounts each year from business and industry.

New Teachers Named In Various Disciplines

Stritch's teaching faculty includes a number of new faces this fall as a result of personnel expansions and necessary replacements in the various academic departments, according to Sr. Barbara Marie Weithaus, dean.

Full-time appointments include: Mrs. Donna Bari, home economics; Mrs. Tia Rosati Bojar, education; Mrs. Jonelle Comerford, mathematics; Sr. Johanna Flanagan, special education; Sr. Corine Leary, music; and Edwardine Pollocki, theatre arts.

In addition, Sr. Vivian Mary Hopkins has joined the College's library staff and Sr. Luann Steinhagen is serving as an assistant in the Education Department — both on a full-time basis.

Other Assignments Told

Teaching part-time this semester are: Earl Bakalars, history; Walter Brey, reading; Rev. John Brophy, religious studies; Mrs. Grace Cavanaugh, psychology; Susan Gulick, music; Sr. Jan Harmon, psychology; Dr. Horst Schillbach, physics; Sr. Delores Theine, reading; and Mrs. Carol Vermillion, education.

Also, effective this fall, Dr. James Kasum has been named acting head of the Mathematics Department.

Thirty Courses Given As Graduate Offerings

Stritch is conducting over 30 Graduate Division courses and four special workshops in education this fall.

Regular graduate-level classes in education, psychology, reading, and special education are being held late afternoons and evenings — as well as Saturday mornings — through Dec. 19.

Through the Council of Wisconsin Librarians, headquartered at Madison, a state-wide pool of book and research resources is made available to all libraries — including Stritch.

Closer to home, the St. Francis Children's Activity and Achievement Center, owned and operated by the Wisconsin Society for Brain-Injured Children, provides a laboratory school on campus for student teaching and professional research.

The Wisconsin Association of Higher Education is an overriding "umbrella organization" of accredited public and independent colleges and universities that facilitates regular contacts and exchanges of ideas between administrators of higher education programs across the state.

Other Consortia Noted

The Allied Health Coordinating Council of Southeastern Wisconsin is a Milwaukee-based group which has projects of interest and concern to Stritch's Home Economics Department.

In addition to the above, Stritch works closely with other independent institutions in Milwaukee as follows: (a)

our College and St. Francis De Sales College exchange faculty members each semester; (b) the Education Departments of Stritch, Alverno, Marquette, and Mount Mary meet regularly to discuss teacher preparation programs and related problems; and (c) Stritch participates in the Naval Reserve Officers Training Corps program (NROTC) under the auspices of Marquette University.

Finally, the U. S. Army's Reserve Officer Training Corps program (ROTC) is carried out at Stritch in conjunction with UW-Milwaukee.

Adult Classes Feature Variety of Interests

Over 40 adult enrichment courses will be conducted this fall through the Continuing Studies Division, according to Sr. Andrée Gaspard, program coordinator.

Areas of instruction include art, drama, finance, foreign languages, history, music, psychology, theology, travel, yoga, and others. Classes are scheduled throughout daytime and evening hours.

Among new offerings are parental awareness sessions, studies of Japan, and "The Press and the Public." Mr. Frank Zeidler, former mayor of Milwaukee, will conduct a course on "The 'Good Life' in Wisconsin." Sr. Thomasita Fessler is offering a 6-session series entitled "Travel: Tips & Treats."

Staffing Changes Affect Admissions Office, Campus Ministry and Secretarial Services

Among changes in administrative and support services made over the summer for the 1975-76 school year are the respective appointments of two new admissions counselors, an acting coordinator of campus ministry, and two secretarial assistants.

Gerritt Holgerson and Lynn Wagner have joined the Admissions Office staff as student recruiters. Mr. Holgerson, who graduated from Carroll College, is also acting as athletic director for men's sports. Miss Wagner was formerly employed as an admissions counselor at Alverno College.

Priest Plays Dual Role

Father Michael Komechak, O.S.B., a faculty member on leave from Illinois Benedictine College, is enrolled in the College's art program as a special student. He will also direct Stritch's campus ministry program this year — in place of Father Robert Sullivan, who has resigned from this post because of the demands of his teaching position in the Milwaukee Public Schools.

Sr. Ignace Eckelkamp has rejoined Stritch's support staff as secretary to the president, and Theresa Johaneck is working full-time as accounts payable clerk and Business Office cashier.

New Registrar — Sister Frances Marie DeLany assumed her administrative position on Sept. 1st.

Fall Semester Calendar of Student Activities Slates Social Events and Basketball Contests

Following a full slate of "Welcome Week" activities, the fall semester calendar of social and athletic events for students is equally busy and varied. The following summary highlights many of the activities coordinated by the dean of students, Marianne Buenzli.

In September, there will be opportunities to attend Friday afternoon "drop-in rehearsals" of the Milwaukee Symphony Orchestra, a TGIF party in the Rec Hall, an open house in the Teacher Education Center, free showings of the film "1776", an evening featuring Shakey's Rag-Time Band, a bike hike, and several orientation meetings for club officers.

Dramatic Program

On Sun. eve., Nov. 2, Cardinal Stritch and St. Francis De Sales Colleges will co-sponsor a dramatic program entitled, "A Cavalcade of American Theatre," presented by the National Players of the Catholic University of America.

As a part of the College's Bicentennial Observance, this cultural offering is open to the public. For ticket information, call Sr. Frederick Lochemes at 352-5400.

October will feature a special dinner for resident students, a TGIF party at night with movies and dancing, more "drop-in rehearsals" of Milwaukee's Symphony, a Bloodmobile visit on campus, an all-College talent show, a piano concert, mid-terms and a long weekend, music student recitals, and a Halloween hayride and square dance.

Other Plans Outlined

For November, the pattern will include the usual monthly TGIF party, "drop-in rehearsals," and a special dinner for residents — as well as a student dramatic production, the Decision-Making Seminar, Human Relations meetings, a "60's Dance," music recitals, and the Thanksgiving recess.

The Admissions Office will conduct a special "Scene at Stritch" open house on campus, Fri., Nov. 21. In addition, the varsity basketball season will begin. (See schedule on P. Five.)

In December, another TGIF party will be held at night, a concert of sacred music is scheduled, and a "White Elephant Sale" will be held to finance student attendance at the Model U.N. Other events include the students' Christmas Dinner, a college music recital . . . and final exams.

School Superintendents

In July, Fathers John Hanley and Leslie Darnieder, superintendent and deputy superintendent of the Milwaukee Archdiocesan Catholic Schools respectively, attended a courtesy luncheon on campus with Stritch's officers.

Knights of Columbus

Mr. Del Peterson, Brookfield, and Mr. Michael Feider, Sheboygan, visited Stritch in June for a luncheon meeting with the College's officers and a campus tour. Messrs. Peterson and Feider are the State Deputy and State Secretary, respectively, of the Knights of Columbus organization.

Stritch Has Long History of Achievement In Training Special Education Teachers

Last year's evaluation report of the North Central Association's visitation team described Cardinal Stritch College's graduate programs as "among the best in the nation in reading and special education." In addition, the NCA's visitors encouraged the College to publicize these offerings "without being excessively modest" in such efforts.

Acting accordingly, it should be reported that Stritch provides programs in Special Education at three academic levels: (1) a two-year Associate of Arts degree program to train paraprofessionals; (2) a four-year Bachelor of Arts degree program to prepare teachers of the mentally retarded; and (3) Master of Arts degree programs—with concentration upon Learning Disabilities, Mental Retardation, or Special Religious Education (MR).

Background Information Given

Historically, the College and St. Coletta School at Jefferson, Wis., two institutions owned and operated by the Sisters of St. Francis of Assisi, have collaborated formally since 1943 to combine theory and practice in the preparation of both teachers and paraprofessionals who work with the retarded.

Stritch opened its Graduate Division in 1956 to provide advanced studies and research training in the areas of special education and reading.

Alumni Influence Profession

Prior to 1965, nearly half of all teachers of special classes in the elementary and secondary schools of Wisconsin had received their training through Cardinal Stritch College and St. Coletta Laboratory School.

In other states, diocesan and archdiocesan programs of Catholic education for the retarded were established and staffed by Stritch graduates—both religious and lay—in such places as St. Louis, Cleveland, New Orleans, Newark, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, and Wichita.

More recently, Stritch introduced its M.A. degree programs in Learning Disabilities and Special Religious Education in Summer, 1971. The LD program was greatly enhanced one year ago when the St. Francis Children's Activity and Achievement Center was put into operation on campus. The Master's program in Religious Education for the Retarded is believed to be the first and only one of its kind in the nation.

Curriculum Guides Printed

It should also be noted that Stritch has published MR Curriculum Guides in ten areas of instruction, produced by the Sisters of St. Francis of Assisi. Over 10,000 copies of these instructional aids are being used by teachers of the retarded throughout the world.

College Mothers Club Plans Four Programs

The CSC Mothers Club has scheduled a full calendar of monthly programs for 1975-76, according to Sr. Frederick Lochemes, faculty coordinator. Highlights of the fall semester will be the Annual Wine Dinner on Wed., Nov. 12, and the yearly Christmas Party for the OSF Sisters on campus, Sun., Dec. 14. Both events will be held in Serra Dining Hall.

Mothers Club luncheons and card parties are also slated for Wed., Sept. 24, and Wed., Oct. 15—with guest privileges available.

Current Officers Named

This year's roster of leaders includes: Mesdames Lucia Angell, president; Jo Slagle, 1st vice president; Angie Gruszynski, 2nd vice president; Ann Peplinski, treasurer; Mildred Jaeger, recording secretary; and Hulda Brown, corresponding secretary.

ANNUAL FUND HONOR ROLL

This listing of persons who contributed to the 1974-75 Stritch Annual Fund covers the period from June 1 through July 31. Chicago Chapter Sets Autumn Meeting

The Chicago chapter of Cardinal Stritch College's Alumni Association voted earlier this year to hold just one annual luncheon-meeting instead of its traditional Fall and Spring Lunches, according to Sr. Justine Peter, alumni coordinator.

In this way, the Chicago group hopes that (a) more members from Illinois and surrounding states will be encouraged to attend the "Windy City" gathering each fall, and (b) more graduates from Illinois will be able to participate in the Annual Alumni Day activities on Stritch's campus each spring.

Meeting Date Cited

The 1975 Fall Luncheon for alumni in the Chicago area will be held at 12:00 noon on Sat., Nov. 8, at the Cypress Inn — immediately adjacent to the Tri-State Tollway in Hinsdale, Ill.

Mary Doyle Shockey, '55, will host this event. Her mailing address is: 4724 Fair Elms, Western Springs, Ill. Phone: (312) 246-7994. Reservations will cost $6.50 per person, and guests are welcome.

Special School Named After Stritch Graduate

Insofar as alumni records show and veteran faculty members can recall, Sr. Maureen Hanley, RSM, Grad. '62, is the first Stritch graduate in its history who has had a special school named in her honor.

The Hanley Home for retarded adolescents (9-16 years of age) was formally dedicated on June 7, 1975, at Fall River, Mass. Congratulations!

Two Alumni Intern In Dietetics Training

Two 1975 graduates who majored in foods and nutrition have been awarded professional internships in dietetics.

These alumni are Anne Brady, Milwaukee, interning at St. Michael's Hospital, Milwaukee; and Gary Johnsen, West Allis, training at Columbia Hospital here.

Campus Physical Plant Changes Reported

To accommodate growing enrollments, faculty increases, and academic program expansion, a number of physical plant improvements were made this past summer. These projects ranged from the purchase of new library equipment to the relocation of certain faculty and administrative offices — and from repaving one of the main parking lots to tuckpoint work on the Administration Building. The major development, however, was the implementation of the College's plan for fuller utilization of the Stritch Reading Laboratory as a graduate facility.

New Arrangements Told

According to Dr. Robert F. Flahive, vice president, the following steps were taken. (1) Four available rooms on the ground floor of the Reading Lab have been converted into (a) a combined classroom-library for the Children's Literature course — thus providing additional space in the College Library, (b) a graduate student lounge, (c) the Testing Materials Center, and (d) a Graduate Division seminar room. Each room has been furnished according to its new function. (2) Four former reading alcoves on the second floor have been assigned as faculty offices for (a) the Psychology Department and (b) part-time instructors who teach graduate courses in the Reading Lab.

Arrangements were also made to remodel the Language Laboratory, to install a 10,000-gallon, standby fuel oil tank for heating emergencies, and to provide portable air-conditioning systems in the College Library and offices in the Administration Building.

In addition, two portable security gates were purchased earlier this year for placement on the ground floor and first floor of Serra Hall during evening functions.

Office Changes Noted

Elsewhere on campus, Education Department personnel now occupy faculty offices in the Administration Building formerly assigned to the Psychology Department. This has freed space in the Teacher Education Center for its general reorganization and the relocation of the "curriculum collection" from the College Library.

The Mathematics Department's computer terminal has been moved to Duns Scotus 114, which will again be used as a classroom. In turn, the Alumni Association and Mothers Club offices (formerly in DS 114) have been shifted back to the respective clubrooms of these organizations — on the ground floor of the Administration Building.

Other moves involved changing the locations of the following administrative offices — business officer, dean of students, and Office of Career and Placement Services (to be shared temporarily with the Office of Graduate Affairs).

Curriculum Features Broad Field Major

As reported in the Summer issue of Stritch '75, the English Department now offers a Broad Field English/Communication Arts major, which requires 30-32 credits in English and 24-25 credits in Communication Arts — including journalism, speech, and theatre.

According to Sr. Barbara Marie Weit-haus, academic dean, the Broad Field major is designed to afford a variety of options for students who wish to become secondary teachers, as well as for students who wish to specialize in mass media, advertising, publishing, or the theatre arts. For the latter, extra-curricular activities in related fields may be taken for academic credit.

"Communication arts should appeal to English majors, teacher trainees, talented speakers, actors, artists, and students of the theatre," Sister Barbara Marie says. "It should also be noted that any qualified student may minor in this field of study at Stritch."

College Offers Course Geared to Supervision

To acknowledge the importance and value of services rendered by professional classroom teachers in Stritch's student teaching program, the College is sponsoring a 2-credit, Graduate Division course, entitled "Supervision of Student Teaching" — free of tuition — according to Mrs. Patricia Wolfe, Education Dept. head.
